

Eibhear Walshe is Director of Creative Writing in the School of English at University College Cork in Ireland . He is the author of three novels, The Last Day at Bowen's Court (2020), The Trumpet Shall Sound (2019) and The Diary of Mary Travers (2014), as well as a memoir titled Cissie's Abattoir (2009). His works of literary criticism include Jane Wilde (2023), A Different Story: Colm Toibin's Fictions (2013), Oscar's Shadow: Wilde, Homosexuality and Modern Ireland (2011) and Kate O'Brien: A Writing Life (2006). He co-edited with Anne Fogarty and Éilís Ní Dhuibhne the collection Imagination in the Classroom: Teaching and Learning Creative Writing in Ireland (2013) and other edited collections include Elizabeth Bowen's Selected Irish Writings (2011) and Elizabeth Bowen: Visions and Revisions (2008).